12) The provisions of sub-rule (8) of rule 4 are mandatory and a claim for the return of deposit made by a candidate who is successful at the election cannot be returned unless such claim is preferred within six months of the date of the declaration of the result. Consequently, the deposit cannot be returned in this case.

A copy of the notification is put up GHS Election (GH) 10/7

14) There appears to be, however, a small lacuna in the rules which requires to be amended in this respect.

15) Sub-rule (3) of the said rule provides for the forfeiture of the deposits made by the other types of candidates. Sub-rule (8) is silent about forfeiture, although this is to be implied, as the sub-rule provides for the non-return of the deposit, in case the claim for refund is not made within six months. The position may perhaps be clarified by amending the rules by providing for express forfeiture in this case also.

7/ The idea of forfeiture implies deprivation on account of some fault on the part of the person who owns the property. So, on principle, it would not be desirable to impose forfeiture. But, if failure to claim back the deposit within a reasonable time is viewed as neglect justifying forfeiture, then such forfeiture must result only after the lapse of reasonable time — which I would suggest as three years from the date of the publication of the result of election.
